The Anchor Brewing Company building was originally built in 1937 as a coffee roastery. After a long search, owner Fritz Maytag purchased our building in 1977 and brewed its first Anchor Steam on August 13, 1979. Nestled at the base of San Francisco's Potrero Hill neighborhood, our iconic brewery features classic art deco architecture with sweeping city skyline views. Our beautiful copper kettle brew house, rich wood interiors, and spiral staircases present a warm and welcoming venue for your next private event.
